replacement collective central heating boiler

Datum
1 April 2021

To all residents of the residential building with the address Haammakerstraat 2 – 96, Venray

Dear resident,

The collective central heating boiler of your residential building is scheduled to be replaced. That is why we are going to replace the heating boiler in your residential building next year with an innovative, gas-free heat pump installation.

What does this mean to you?

In September of this year, we will inform you extensively about the planning and the activities that will take place in March-April 2022. The collective heat pump will probably be installed in May 2022, but you will be cooking on induction from April-May 2022. You will receive a free induction cooker with pan set from Wonen Limburg.

The reason we are informing you about this now is to prevent you from making (large) investments for a gas cooking appliance in the coming months.

What does this mean in your neighborhood?

We have now installed the heat pump at the first residential building Robijn, all homes in that building have become gas-free and the tenants are cooking on induction. In the meantime, information conversations with the residents have taken place at the Smaragd and Amber residential buildings. The heat pumps will be installed here this year.
